Dear Mr & Mrs. Pergrin,

Really dont know how to tell you but Elizabeth Coleman passed away on the 5th of June. She had been ill for about six weeks in bed because of her very sluggish heart and breathlessness.

I am not certain when you will be hearing from her attorney after the will has been filed. But she did leave you four items, if you wanted them. A rocking chair which had been in the family but which most of the dogs have chewed away considerably; a table which had been in her mother's house, the Benj. Franklin tooth which she showed everyone until recently when she said she couldnt find it, and a very large family tree. Elizabeth and her sister Gladys were inserted by my son several years ago and the tree goes no further. She also left some money to Tracy M Starr and Allen, Pergrin, I assume they are your children. If so, would you be good enough to let me have their addresses so that the attorney can get in touch with them. (Sorry, this machine needs a tune-up).

We lived together for forty-five years and it is very hard to be here all alone. I expect to be in California sometime in July, in LA and if Compton isnt too far away I may try to phone you. Sorry to have
